

Safety Suggestions

YOU MUST READ THE ENTIRE USER MANUAL CAREFULLY

Kitewing riding must be taken seriously. We recommend seeking guidance from other experienced riders. Use extreme caution when using a Kitewing. Wear a helmet. On the ice, wear ice picks worn outside all clothing. Knee pads and elbow pads are recommended. Improper use or negligent use of the Kitewing may result in serious injury or death to yourself and others. Take the time to become familiar with your Kitewing. Remember that you are responsible for your own safety and the safety of others when using a Kitewing. Ride within your limits. The Kitewing is not intended for use as a flying device. Kitewing does not recommend flying or jumping with the wing.

When you are sailing on the ice: you must be familiar with the ice. Check the area where you intend to sail carefully. You must be prepared to rescue yourself and any one with you. Wear picks; carry a throw line. Picks worn properly should be snugged up tight so they do not fling or float behind your head. Do not carry ice picks in a pocket or worn under your clothes.

Warranty

Kitewing LLC takes pride in the wing. We seek to provide the ultimate support to folks who ride the wing or sail on the ice and snow. Kitewing will not cover normal wear and tear. Kitewing will not cover broken components which have been modified, components which break due to jumping, flying, or sailing with a harness.

Send us a detailed description of your issue with JPEG images to illustrate a broken component. We want to know how you broke your wing. We can learn from you. It is also easier to determine whether or not we will send you a new part free of charge.

Work with us and we will work for you.
